Conferee Dining

- ✓ Conferee dining on the ground floor of the elegant DuBose House. The original dining room, sitting room, library and porch have each been renovated to accommodate dining while still preserving the flavor and style of the Georgian Revival period. The original fireplaces, woodwork and molding have been restored to create a dining experience that allows attendees to feel right at home.
- ✓ Private and group dining rooms, cozy lounge areas, fireplaces and sumptuous food provide an exceptional dining experience for attendees. The chef has written a series of menus with light and hearty selections at every meal designed to tempt a wide variety of appetites. This isn't your typical conferee dining experience!
- ✓ Our continuous break service offers guests a wide variety of choices for both food and drink throughout the day. Every dietary request is provided for with our plentiful assortment of tempting treats and healthy snacks. Break kiosks are located convenient to your classroom and are available throughout the day.

After Hours

- ✓ The congenial atmosphere of the UNC-themed Sports Bar creates a favorite space to meet for beverages, light fare and after-hours networking and relaxation. Enjoy some camaraderie, drinks and snacks after a business meeting.

Outdoor Dining

- ✓ The seasonal outdoor pool, deck area and pool house are unique venues for receptions and private group functions as well as for individual guests to enjoy during their stay. Either the pool house or pergola patio area can be a perfect spot for an outdoor barbecue, family-style opening dinner or heavy hors d'oeuvres reception. Conferee dining with a twist!
- ✓ The Rizzo Center boasts seasonal gardens and manicured grounds for alternative dining agendas, recreation or studying and relaxing.
- ✓ Outdoor covered plaza with seating for up to 50 at the rear of Loudermilk Hall.
